2) Hallucination check for the below prompt

Write a 4-line poem where every line ends with a word that strictly rhymes with the word 'Silver'.

Chatgpt:

Strictly speaking, "silver" has no perfect rhyme in standard English. So a poem where every line ends in a strict rhyme with "silver" isn't possible without using a nonstandard/proper word.

If near-rhymes are acceptable, "pilfer," "filter," "wilfer" etc. can approximate it—but they aren't strict rhymes.

Gemini:

The moonlight spilled across the river,
A glowing thread, a subtle sliver,
Where willow branches start to quiver,
And shadows make the cold night shiver.

Qwen:

I feel the winter wind and shiver
And watch the trembling branches quiver
The moon reveals a glowing sliver
Of starlight that the clouds deliver

DeepSeek:

No word in English truly rhymes with silver,
Though poets may search for a phrase to deliver.
They try every sound, every twist, every quiver,
Yet find only near-misses that make the heart shiver.
